A unique collection of 133 original Chinese posters from 1913-1997, loaned to the Confucius Institute for Scotland from the extensive collection of over 5,000 posters held by Propaganda Poster Art Centre, Shanghai.

From the earliest poster of Shanghai Calendar Girls (1913) to the newest, showing Deng Xiaoping and Jiang Zemin (1997), this collection reveals the turbulent history of China over these decades as well as varying artistic influences on this art form.
